

Stirling Capital Management, LLC Announces the Expansion of its Consulting Services

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

WELLINGTON, FL. – June 20, 2011 – Stirling Capital Management, LLC, an industry leader in debt portfolio solutions, today announced the expansion of its consulting services platform to include banks, credit issuers and portfolio owners. Due to the continued growth in its brokerage services unit, Stirling had previously offered these services on a limited basis only. Stirling Capital is now able to provide clients with consulting services in every segment of the collections and recovery industry.

“We have assembled a diverse team of industry professionals that are experienced in all aspects of collections and recovery. Stirling can provide clients with industry leading experience in operations, portfolio acquisitions, performance modeling, agency and attorney outsourcing, as well as portfolio sales”, says company President Edward S. Forbes. “I am excited about the opportunity to work again with individuals that I believe to be leaders of the ARM industry and feel confident in our ability to provide consulting solutions that help meet our client’s strategic objectives.”

Stirling has expanded its consulting expertise with the addition of highly experienced, well regarded industry experts, many of whom have held C-level positions at banks, card issuers and debt portfolio management firms.

“Ed has assembled an impressive team. Anyone seeking to improve pre- or post-charge-off performance anywhere in the supply chain will be hard pressed to find more experience in one team” said Jonathon W. Albright, a strategic advisor to Stirling Capital’s brokerage sales unit since 2009. Presently CFO of TDX Group, one of Europe’s largest providers of technology platforms, tools and services to the ARM industry, he is also a former Chief Financial Officer of Barclay’s UK Consumer Card business in London and a former Senior Vice President at JP Morgan Chase. Stirling’s consulting team will continue to draw on his multi-national strategic, financial and investment banking experience.
